

I have been using XM radio for a while now. One of the best features they have added was the traffic and weather reports. There is no coverage in my local area but i travel too cities they do cover often. To be able to get traffic reports before i leave my house is awesome. Taking this feature away from satellite radio will not help the local radio stations it will only hurt the public.

I have seen this type of issue before. Broadcast TV tried to stop cable, Cable tried to stop satellite tv, Auto makers tried to ban imports. Instead of building a better product or offering better services they try to ban the competition. This country is based on competition. Banning satellite radio from offering services like weather and traffic is taking away my freedom of choice. Forcing me to listen to what i don't want to listen too.

Let the public listen to what they want, get the information they need for where they want....not where the NAB (national association of broadcasters) forces them too. Let the people have their freedom of choice
